

TEMPEST GRAV-TANK

POINTS: 480

"Tempest" is the Imperial designation given to a super heavy grav-tank from the ancient days of the Eldar Empire and a precursor to the more common Scorpion, although the Eldar do not make such a distinction. Although its pulsar is less powerful than the one mounted on the modern Scorpion, it has a wide array of anti-personnel weaponry that enables it to operate in less well-supported positions; a feature preferred by some Autarchs when formulating their intricate battle plans.
